Dear Friends,

I have news to share! Our Martha's Kitchen ministry will restart on Saturday, June 5 at 10:00 a.m. Last Thursday Gina Odell and I went to the Women's Opportunity Center's new office in Liverpool because I could not find the phone number anywhere and the Ithaca site wasn't answering the phone or returning my voicemail. So we went not knowing what we would find. What we found was most encouraging. Just last week Spectrum finished installing the phone lines and reliable internet access to run a number of computers at a time. WOC trains women and men to enter the workforce or to reenter it after an absence. They are now training in person as well as continuing their on-line instruction.

We met with Amy Canavan, the only fulltime staff person, who was very happy for us to start cooking for the clients and their families again. The women especially like all the vegetables we put into our pasta sauce and crustless quiche. We will continue the pattern of cooking on first Saturdays and a mid-month Tuesday.

Please join me in praying for the success of this ministry and for the clients who will enjoy our food. May God bless us all.
